

NEW!

Improved sophisticated hazard warning light kit with night illumination and audible warning and visual display.

Evolutionary upgrade

When the original version of this hazard warning light system was launched in 2019, it quickly became popular for two main reasons. Firstly, it looked totally OE when installed, and secondly it was quick and easy to fit. Since then, it has been possible to incorporate new technology, so the challenge was to do this without making it difficult to install. Now this kit has an audible warning, a visual display, and an illuminated switch to make it quick and easy to locate and use in an emergency.

Quick and easy to fit

No installer, whether professional or private car owner, wants installation of equipment to be complicated and time-consuming, so this vital piece of safety equipment has only five connections to be made, and all wires are name-tagged so that constant reference to wiring diagrams is not needed.

New technology

In 2025, we developed a new breed of electronic hazard warning light flasher relay to work with all bulb types, LED or conventional. It was designed to cope with older cars where the battery can run flat if the hazards are on for a long time. This one will work all the way down to 5 volts, so it will keep the hazards going for twice as long as a conventional one. We also incorporated a sounder to reassure you that the hazards are on and the switch also flashes bright red to confirm the status. The kit comes with instructions and even connectors which can be opened and closed to enable you to tailor the kit to your car and prove the system is working and then use the permanent connectors of your choice

Costs

In spite of the many improvements, the cost of this kit has gone up by just £10.00 since the launch in 2019. It now costs £79.99+VAT and comes with a 5 year guarantee and tech support.
